Houston Food Bank

Founded in 1982, the Houston Food Bank (HFB) distributes food through nearly 400 hunger relief agencies in Houston and 18 surrounding counties in southeast Texas. In 2010, HFB had outgrown their existing space, which led to overcrowding at their warehouse and greater inefficiencies in their distribution. As a result, HFB leased additional space in remote locations, which caused delays in serving their clients.

In 2010, CRF allocated $26.5 million of New Market Tax Credits (NMTCs) toward a $51 million project, which allowed HFB to acquire and renovate three warehouse and office buildings. This significantly expanded its capacity in an area with a 28 percent poverty rate. Of the 891,000 people living in poverty in the Houston area, nearly 40 percent—or 348,000—are children under the age of 18.

With the new, efficient facility, HFB is now able to distribute twice the amount of food that it had previously. By 2018, the food bank plans to provide 100 million nutritious meals to hungry families across southeast Texas by feeding more than 80,000 individuals each week. The project also created or retained 150 full-time jobs, in addition to 60 construction jobs.
